

Computer Vocabulary

ACROSS

- 3 Where you can view and access other computers you are connected to.
- 6 A computer dedicated to delivering e/mail messages.
- 7 Indicates whether or not you have made a secure connection to the current Web site
- 8 The web page that is loaded when you launch your web browser
- 10 _____ is the deliberate act of sending or posting offensive, harmful, cruel, or otherwise disrespectful text or images using the internet or other communication technology.
- 11 Move objects on screen and input commands.
- 12 Text or graphic element embedded in a web page that you can click to go to another web page.
- 13 Where you can view and access your files and equipment.
- 17 Where you title an email
- 20 _____ is usually contained within a small geographic area.
- 21 Contains the URL of the current page
- 22 Hypertext Markup Language
- 23 _____ is the study of the design and positioning of equipment so that people will interact with it in a safe and comfortable way.
- 25 This device is used to input moving picture.
- 26 Enter text and issue commands.

DOWN

- 1 Logic bombs, worms, Trojan Horses, viruses
- 2 Automatically inputs environmental information.
- 4 Lets you know what a web site intends to do with personal information you submit
- 5 Input digital copies of pictures and documents.
- 9 Default place for storing files.
- 14 Storage place for deleted files.
- 15 Small bit of data stored on your computer that includes information about your browsing habits
- 16 A collection of security measures designed to prevent unauthorized access to a computer system
- 18 A standard way of specifying the location of a Web page on the Internet
- 19 An internet tool where users post messages about a specific topic
- 24 Allows you to submit data to a web site

Computer Vocabulary

